“The feedback I've received... was very very positive. You should know — you had one of the most successful biometric pilot shows ever. Great work!”

— Comments from an attendee at the inaugural BiometriTech™ Conference in 2002

“The U.S. has been singled out for low expenditures in this space over the last few years compared with European and Asian nations, but that will change drastically in the next few years.”

“It's good to see that there are so many new faces at this conference. I mean, the fact of the matter is, the several Biometrics conferences I've spoken at over the past few months have been populated by those people that are players in the biometric community. ...That there are so many more people here from outside the industry is cause for recognition to TMC.”

— Scott Moody, President & CEO, AuthenTec, addressing the audience at BiometriTech™ 2002.
